Murders in English Railway Carriages.

London Spectator.

Take all the circumstances together, and there can hardly be any doubt that Mr. Gold must have fought hard for his life, and sustained the struggle for a considerable time, probably for a quarter of an hour, before it terminated in his death. Since there are many people who would not fear death itself half as much as the prospect of a terrible struggle for life with a murderer, even though, when the moment came, they would yet engage in that struggle, this evidence that the agony was prolonged adds to the painful character of the murder. The Brighton Railway Directors should remember that this event will not only be a warning to defenseless people not to travel in nearly empty carriages, but will also be an advertisement to desperate persons, as holding out the chance of successful robbery and escape. And for their own sakes—especially considering the speed of their trains and the length of their tunnels—they should take pains to make the means of signaling the guards better known to the mass of passengers, and more easy to put in force at a moment's notice. Their subordinates have not shown so much sense in their dealings with Lefroy that they can afford to ignore the public criticism which will certainly be directed to the danger attending the journeys by their express trains.

The Fruit Trade at New Orleans.

N. O. Times.

The last steamer from the Mediterranean fleet having come in and discharged her cargo, it is now possible to give some details of the season's business.

There were 16 steamships bringing each an average of 20,000 boxes of oranges and lemons, making a total of 320,000 by steamer, added to what came by rail, footing up a grand total of 340,000 boxes.

The receipts the year before were 6 steamers and the three sailing ships, bringing about 140,000 boxes, so that the present year's receipts show an increase of 200,000 boxes, while the parties conducting the business expect for the coming season, which will open about Nov. 1st, a further increase of 250,000 boxes.

In addition to these oranges and lemons, which are all from Italian ports, there are considerable receipts of Spanish fruits, from Malaga and Algeria.

The Grant Cottage at Long Branch.

Philadelphia Times' Letter.

The Grant Cottage looks rusty and almost dilapidated, and it appears still worse because it stands next to Mr. George W. Childs cottage, which has been put in summer attire, with new paint, a closely-cropped lawn and profusion of flowers on the balconies and about the windows which hide a large part of the cottage from view. There is not a neater looking place along the beach drive anywhere than Mr. Childs' and there is no less attractive looking one than General Grant's. The Grant cottage needs paint on the outside and whitewash on the inside. The grass needs cutting, the trees need trimming and the fences are demanding repair. It has been given out that all these things would be done, but there has so far been no commencement. Meantime the ex-President is comfortably domiciled at the modest cottage of his lucky son, Jessie, where he smokes and reads and receives his friends.

John at Home.

The Springfield Monitor says: While all the other boys have been trying to fish for the future in the pond of gush at Washington, "Our John" has been quietly gathering his harvest at Carbondale. To see John A. Logan with a broad-brimmed straw hat, blue woolen shirt and buttoned pants on, astride of his favorite mare "Dolly," going backward and forward to his immense wheat fields, and while there taking a hand in "shooking" after his twine binders, is a sight which every constituency of Senators is not permitted to witness after a hard day's work in the field with them in the evening, while lemonade is freely passed around, and all hands join in discussing the news of the day. This is John A. Logan at home, and yet some people wonder why it is that he has such a hold on the boys. Now here is a field for the pencil of Nest.

Medical Matters.

The United States Army of 25,000 men has a medical staff of about 200. The navy, 8,000 men, has a medical staff of about 1,000. The Marine Hospital service, which has about 25,000 patients annually, has about 35 medical officers and about the same number of active assistant surgeons.

The very best cigar to be had for a bit will be found at Allen's bookstore.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that most terrible disease Consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford for the sake of saving a few cents, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a million bottles were sold the past year. It relieves cough, and whooping cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For same of colds, croup, or Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, druggists, Reno, Nevada.

A Fool Once More.

"For ten years my wife was confined to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter or cure her. And I used up a small fortune in humbug stuff. Six months ago I saw a U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I thought I would be a fool once more. I tried it, but my folly proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her. She is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars. Such folly pays.—H. W. Detroit, Mich.

Strayed or Stolen.

About April 15th, from pasture near Wadsworth, two mares. One gray Mare, branded "F" on left thigh; saddle and collar marks; length and of very fine carriage. The other is a small buckskin mare, star on forehead and one white foot. Branded "J" on left thigh. Both shod all around. The animals are supposed to have gone towards Jack's Valley. Any information will be suitably rewarded by applying to.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

OREGON.

A two-year-old child of R. Hubbard of Prairie City, Grant county, disappeared recently, and the whole neighborhood turned out to search for it. Last Tuesday the remains of the child were found in the John Day river.

The name of the young school teacher recently shot in Umatilla for presuming to marry the girl of his choice was not Kinney, as stated in some of the papers, but Walter A. McGhee.

Yesterday Judge Deady decided, in the United States District Court, at Portland, an important suit involving property held by the German Colony at Aurora. This Colony was founded in 1855 by Dr. Kiel, and they came from the mother colony in Bethel, Missouri, which was founded by the same Dr. Kiel in 1835. They held their property in common, and were peculiar in their religious beliefs. So long as Dr. Kiel lived they were satisfied with the matter of common heritage, but after his death, a year or two since, a movement was made for individual ownership of the property. A suit was instituted which has resulted in the decision, which confirms the division of property. This breaks up all joint stock arrangements.

TERRITORIES.

At Camp Spokane, W. T. Steward Cassidy, U. S. A., committed suicide on July 26th by blowing out his brains with a pistol.

At Seattle, R. S. Sullivan, who shot McDonald on Monday, was arranged before the City Justice July 26th, waived examination and was held to await the Grand Jury.

A Mexican at the quartz mill at El Rio, nine miles below Yuma, Arizona, on the California side of the river, quarrelled Wednesday afternoon with a family by the name of Martinez. He armed himself with a six-shooter and threatened to kill the whole family. The first shot was fired at the woman of the house, but missed; the second shot struck the husband in the forehead, knocking him down, but glanced from the bone. The Mexican then escaped.

Northern Notes.

Last Thursday at Byers' ranch near Janesville, Lassen county, Basil Talbot of Greenville was injured by a machine used for raising hay into the barn. He was struck in the stomach and was insensible for several hours, but it is hoped has sustained no serious injury.
F. M. Churchill fell down a Greenville shaft last week and was badly hurt.
Walker Bell, Granite Basin, Plumas, shot and killed his Chinese servant last week.
David Curnow, aged 21 years, was fatally injured at the Bald Mountain mine, Forrest City, Sierra county, on Monday night, dying Tuesday.
Wm. Matteson fell sixty feet down a shaft in the Corbin mine, Plumas, last week, and broke several ribs.

The "Bedott" Person.

"Widow Bedott" will be presented at the Nevada Theatre on the 3rd of August. Of Bishop's "Widow Bedott" the Salt Lake Tribune says: "Whatever the expectations of the public may have been, the effect of Bishop's impersonation of the famous 'Widow Bedott' was a surprise to all. It required no forced attempt to raise a smile, but the house came down solid every time that wonderful face was turned in a new direction or changed its expression. Bishop was born to fill the role he now convulses his audience in, and is a team all by himself, without assistance. There is more expression in one of his grimaces, and in the roll of his eyes, than could be described in a column's space."

Hech men are ye Gaelin' t' Cairson.

The annual picnic of the Caledonia Club has been set for August 8th, at Treadway's Park, Carson. The spots who have are expected to be on hand, kilts, bagpipes, Burns' quotations and all. The programme is the most attractive yet offered, and the GAZETTE hopes that the "canny Scot" will have a "braw time." They generally do when merry making is the order of the day and the committee in charge have made every possible arrangement for comfort and pleasure. Read the programme of sports in another column. Over $1,000 has been offered in prizes. Tickets can be bought at Nasby's Bazaar, 21 Virginia street.

A Notable Success.

The success of any local industry is happily assured through the encouragement which people in this section show to home enterprise. The Pacific Brewery, although a young institution, has already reached the front rank. George Becker is now supplying the trade throughout Washoe, Lassen and Modoc counties. The consumers are well satisfied and only the best brew is offered. The brewery is complete and can supply this entire section.

The New Hotel.

M. E. Gillmore will build the new hotel on the site of the old Pollard House. The building will be 35 X 50 in front, and the ell will be 50 X 34. The house will contain 40 rooms and is to be completed by Fair time.

A CENTRAL MILITARY STATION.

All the Troops in Nevada to be Concentrated at Reno.

There is a stingy talk among army officers that the War Department is preparing to abandon the far distant posts that have been so expensive and unsatisfactory, and consecrate all the troops in Nevada at one post, at Reno. The idea is said to have been entertained by Governor McDowell for some time, and his trip through the interior is partly for the purpose of getting a knowledge of the practicability of the scheme. The matter, no doubt, rests very largely with the General, in his letter to Gov. Kinkadee. Secretary Lincoln speaking of the removal of the garrison from Ft. McDermitt says:

In reply I beg to inform you that under date of the 6th instant said petition was referred by the General of the Army to the Commanding General Military Division of the Pacific, with the view to such action in the matter as he may deem most judicious; he being the proper judge of the distribution of the troops subject to his commanding necessary to afford public protection, and of the relative importance of the various military posts.

This shows that if General McDowell

FAVORS THE PLAN

it is almost certain to be done. There is very much to recommend it, because the soldiers, as at present stationed, are almost useless except in their immediate neighborhood. Fort Bidwell is 200 miles from a railroad or telegraph, and a whole war might be fought before any troops from there could be made available. Fort McDermitt is in Nevada, close to the Idaho line, and might as well be in Alaska, so far as protecting the people of Nevada. Fort Halleck is 15 miles south of the track in an expensive country to live in and keep stock. There is no more need of troops there than at Pyramid, and not as much. If all the soldiers were stationed at Reno they could be started east, west, north or south by rail at an hour's notice, and the force would be much more effective than at present.

The Washoe Horse Market.

Eastern Oregon has always been considered the great horse region of the Pacific Coast. Vast bands roamed over the high plateaus there and lived winter and summer without the slightest attention from their owners. They cost more to break than they did to raise. For some time past, however, horses have been cheaper in this country than in Southeastern Oregon. Several large bands have been sold for less than ten dollars a head, and a good many single animals have been bought here by Oregon horse and cattle men and taken home. Lemmons has droves of horses that do not cost a dollar a head to raise, and when he wants to sell any he goes out into the cedars and corrals a few.

France Instructed.

The west bound train last night had some very good blood on board. A GAZETTE reporter scared up Comte de Le Champfey and two other French dignitaries who accompanied him. While chatting with Monsieur le Comte, and trying to induce him to settle here, the reporter was interrupted by a bevy of Chinese ambassadors on their way to San Francisco. The reportorial French seemed to amuse the Count, and the rill of information which kept running into his ear flooded the lower levels of his mind before the train pulled out.

Pennmanship.

C. M. Butts has reached Reno from Susanville where he taught a large class of young ladies the art of pennmanship. The new teacher has left advanced classes in Quincy, and most of the prominent cities and towns of California. He shows samples of the progress made by his pupils in twelve lessons, and is without doubt a competent teacher. He will remain in Reno and establish a class here. Terms, $3 for twelve lessons. None are required to pay unless entirely satisfied.

At the Asylum.

An observing friend says that there are 20 acres of land about the asylum that ought to be seeded this fall. If seeded this year it will be of value in June next. If it is not attended to now the proceeds of the ground will be lost for one year. The GAZETTE calls attention of the Commissioners to this matter.

Comfortable.

At Nasby's celebrated cigar and novelty bazaar, the thermometer today was as follows: At 9, 11, 1 and 8 o'clock; 85, 83, 97, 87.

HORSE TALK.

Opinions of Trotting and Running Fanatics on the Programme for the Eighth Annual Fair.

The programme arranged for the speed ring of the eighth annual Fair seems to meet with approval on all sides. Theodore Winters, the best representative of running stables on the Pacific coast, had no fault to find, besides some clerical errors, which have been corrected.

Yesterday a GAZETTE reporter met Capt. Matt Canavan of Storey county, and Judge E. V. Spencer of Lassen county, Cal., who are thorough sportsmen and good representatives of the trotting stables. They think that the programme is well arranged. The purses are liberal and they find the Trustees only anxious to make every proper provision for legitimate sport at the meeting.

The attractions in other departments are far ahead of any previous year, as was shown by the list of special premiums published yesterday.

Theodore Winters went to his California farm last night. His horses did well at the Blood Horse meeting. Fred Collier handled Jennie B., and the Duke of Norfolk was only beaten a length by the famous Clara D. from the Baldwin stable. Said Winters: "I was pretty heavily penalized, carrying 11 pounds over weight. If I had been well rode I might have beaten her then. Your programme is better than any outside of Sacramento. I shall be here with my horses, and with the Baldwin and other stables sure to come, we will show you some hot work."

JOTTINGS.

—According to the census, San Francisco has a population of 238,953.

—The Reform Club will omit their Saturday evening entertainment this week, on account of an unusual number of musical entertainments given in town this week, also on account of the warm weather. The entertainment will be resumed next week.

A Testament Reviser's Opinion.

The eminent author, Prof. A. C. Kendrick, D. D., LL. D., who is professor of Hebrew, Latin and Greek in the University of Rochester, and was one of the revisers of the New Testament, in general conversation with a number of gentlemen a short time since, said: "I have received from the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure very marked benefit, and I can most cordially recommend it to others."

Match Race.

A trot will come off on Saturday at 2 o'clock P. M., at the race track at Reno, between Mr. Lee's gray horse, Bald Hornet and Nadon, & Co.'s horse, Roan Tom, for the sum of $150 a side. Two mile heats, best 3 in 5 to harness and to rule. Entrance to gait twenty-five cents for gentlemen, ladies free. Proceeds of gate to go to the sinking of a well to get good water at the fair grounds.

More Premiums.

Another Gain.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Mrs. Louise Montague, Fort-pough's $10,000 beauty, is lying dangerously ill in Galena. Her disease is inflammation of the bowels.

The depot of the New York and Brighton Beach Railroad, Coney Island, and the Pierpont House, together with ten or fifteen railway cars were burned yesterday.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago in connection with several leading churches, has recently inaugurated a system of open air meetings, which have been very successful.

Governor Crittenden of Missouri says that he will issue a proclamation within 48 hours offering $50,000 reward for the arrest of the train robbers; $20,000 for the two ringleaders, probably the James boys; and $4,000 each for the other five men.

How to Fight a Duel.

Boston Post.

Timid man—What should we do if challenged to fight a duel? Why, we'd hire a lot of men to talk over town what a dead sure shot we were, and how insensible to fear we were, and we'd then accept the challenge and get fifteen or twenty undertakers to call on the challenger and say they heard he was going to fight us, and they would be glad if he would put it in his will that they were to bury him, and we'd get it told in the papers that we had killed seven men in duels, and that we'd remarked in public that we didn't want to kill the fellow, and would be glad to settle it honorably, but if he insisted on being slain, why, we couldn't help it. And you gamble your existence he'll conclude to settle it. Don't show the white feather.

President Garfield Buys a Farm.

Alexandria Gazette.

Before Mr. Garfield became President he and Mr. Jere Black became the owners of a small part of a tract of land in Alexandria county, partly by purchase and partly as a fee for services. The whole tract was mortgaged, and in order to save their part they instructed their agent, J. W. Burke of Alexandria, to buy the whole of it when the sale under the foreclosure should be made. That sale took place last week, and under instructions signed by James A. Garfield and Jere Black, their agent, Mr. Burke, bought the entire tract, so that while the President was lying in his bed, suffering from a would-be assassin's wound, and unaware of what was going on outside of his sick room, he became the owner of quite a large farm in Alexandria county, within view of the White House.

Carlyleism.

Carlyle tells us in his reminiscences that having ridden sixty miles to Edinburgh to consult a doctor, he told his story and asked, "Is this disease curable?" "It's all tobacco air," said the doctor; "give it up." Carlyle gave it up instantly and strictly. The following entry was discovered a considerable time afterward in his note book: "Found, after long months, that I might as well have ridden sixty miles in an opposite direction, and poured my sorrows into the long hairy ear of the first jackass that I came upon, as into this select medicinal man, whose name I will not mention."

Sea Water Runs a Mill.

At Argostoli, or Cephalonia, where Lord Dufferin lately touched on his way to Constantinople, is a mill worked by a stream flowing from the sea. An Englishman discovered that the water always ran the way, and built a mill which has made his fortune. He tried hard to find where the water, which disappears into the earth, ultimately went, and, among other experiments with that end, poured oil on its surface, but its course remained a mystery.

Rescued From Death.

William J. Condit of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and sleep, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the Hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. William Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I got a bottle, when to my surprise, I commenced to feel better, and today I feel better than for three years past. I write this hoping every one afflicted with Disordered Lungs will take Dr. William Hall's Balsam, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I can positively say it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness."

Honored and Blessed.

When a list of eminent physicians and chemists announced the discovery that by combining some well known valuable remedies the most wonderful medicine was produced, which would cure such a wide range of diseases that most all other remedies could be dispensed with, many were skeptical; but proof of its merits by actual trial has dispelled all doubt, and to-day the discoverers of that great medicine, Hop Bitters, are honored and blessed by all who have used them.
